

Don't worry. If you mailed in a check and it was postmarked before the grace period is over, you will not receive any late charges. During heavy collection times, we process mail as we receive it. As more and more people are mailing in payments, it may take a week or so to process all the mail.